

-----
Title: The Inner Workings of Time Travel

Author: Akhorahil Asgard
-----

Though a touchy
subject I have seen
such a thing
happen Many times in the form of a
"Moongate". Though not through casual loops
nor contraptions from far off Moonglow the travel through time is
much like the spell
gate. Through various study I have discovered That the words of power "Vas Rel Por" Have
distorted the very
space itself. In short
we are not moving
across Britiannia, Britiannia
is moving towards us... To elaborate the spatial distortions
manifest as gates
which only maintain
themselves as long as the spatial pressure
around them is not
great enough to collapse the Gate
itself. How does this relate to traveling
from now to then you say? Quite simply how is it that we are able to distort space
yet not time when the
two are tied together
threw all physical
law. Upon expanding
to a larger scale I came up with this
example. Say an arch
wizard casts our theoretical Time spell
at point A. Point A

Leads to Point B yet it is impossible for us to tear the spatial dimensions apart without some sort of ramification. Hence an unknown spatial matter that we will call Spatialium creates an alter universe or Britannia for a given amount of time. (that time would depend upon how long our spatial gate was left open) In this alternate Universe everything would be exactly as it was when the gate was opened. only it is standing still since the gate is still open and the Spatialium is still being use to reenforce this gate. MEANING that theorecticaly if we open A second Thrid or even forth gate (as we are unable to determine the exact amount of power it would take) at the percise moment as anougher gate at the exact same spot using the exact same amount of power eliminating all variables, then we should be able to open a gate to that Frozen moment of the alternate universe of Spatial matter! However the cause and effect of this experiment could very well disturb the flow of nature to the point of tearing itself apart. In conclusion I state that with all variables eliminated, the exact power of spell known, and the insanity to fool with nature to the point of tearing her part, We as mortal man of

Magic could freeze
ourselves,or others, in time. If we opened a Spatial gate in the
frozen universe then
what would happen?
Time travel to the
past? The future? Or perhaps into some unknown realm. Of course all of this is
pure theroy and has not one once of fact in it albait for this- The Spatial gate spell
opens a rift in time
enough for us to travel great distances in a
blink of an eye, and
since Time and Space
and directly related
we cannot possibly
travel through one
without being able to travel through the
other. So I beg of thee fellow users of the Arcane, to use
judgment when
fooling with these spells given to us by science art and nature.
For somday it could be
our very own spells
that destroy us
instead of us using
them to destroy
others. Be it through us using up to much
spatial matter through moongates. Or opening up to many rips in nature we must
always be weary for
the fragile land we walk apon,live
apon,and die apon will allways be determined to set us back. To Prove as a mighty
road block to keep us
weak...To keep us
mortal.
Akhorahil Asgard
Apprentice to his Master.